SIGNS OF RAIN.

Addressed by Dr. Jenner in 1810, to a young lady who asked him if he thought it would rain to-moorrow :-"The hollow winds begin to blow,

The clouds look black, the glass is low : The soot falls down, the spaniels sleep, And spiders from their cobwebscreep. Last night the sun went pale to bed, The moon in halos hid her head, The boding shepherd heaves a sigh, For see a minbow spans the sky; The walls are damp, the ditches smell, Closed is the pink-eyed pimpernel. The squalid toads at dusk were seen Slowly crawling o'er the green ; Loud quack the ducks, the peacocks cry, The distant hills are looking nigh. Hark, how the chairs and tables crack, Old Betty's joints are on the rack, And see you rooks how odd their flight, They imitate the gliding kite, Or seem precipitate to fall, As if they felt the piercing ball. How restless are the snorting swine. The busy flies disturb the kine, Low o'er the grass the swallow wings, The cricket, too, how lond she sings; Puss on the hearth, with velvet paws, Sits wiping o'er it's whiskered jaws:

'Twill surely rain, I see with sorrow,

Our jaunt must be put off to-morrow."

Hosonen be woman! Shame on thos who would speak to her, or of her, in other than terms of kindness and respect. A gallant cotemporary thinks that this world would be hardly worth living in, were it deprived of woman. Listen to his rhapsody :- Who would remain in a garden from which the flowers have been taken, or in a grove from which the birds have departed, or beneath a sky that the sweet stars had forsaken! Let cynics prattle as they may, our existence here without the presence of the other sex, they see a progressive improvement in this branch The light, the smiles and affections of woman, are the bow of beauty and promise, which spans the life of man from his cradle to his grave.

Another writer says, George Canning always cherished the tenderest love for the humble mother that bare him. So soon as his resources would permit, he made ample provision for her support; and for years after he entered Parliament, and even when a foreign embassador, he wrote her a weekly epistle, breathing the kindliest affection. Though he could never elevate her tastes and associations above the connections of her youth, he used to throw aside the cares of office, that he might visit her and the humble cousins with whom she dwelt, at Bath, and there, when in the zenith of his fame, would walk out with his plebeian relatives, and receive the homage of his lordly visitants at that fashionable place of resort, in their company. This makes him a noble man. He delighted in literary pursuits -- was a brilliant essayist and wrote Latin and English verses with much grace and beauty. How entwined around the hearts of the best and greatest men, are the thousand recollections of maternal Live! In looking pack thro' the desert of years, to the first years of life, the rosy spring-time of existence, the soul beholds a mother's form shining like an of Goods, and in the execution of Orders, the qualiangel in paradise. Around her clusters all ties and prices will be fully guarantied against al that is beautiful and holy-she is the child's divinty: and the memory of the man recognizes and recalls all that was heavenly and pure in past life, by reverting to the dear thought of mother.

LARMATINE, in his "Voyage en Orient," touchingly adverts to his mother's teaching. "My mother," he says, "had received from her mother, a handsome Bible of Royoumont from which she taught me to read when I was very young. This Bible had engravings of sacred subjects, on nearly every page. When I had read half a page with tolerable correctness, my mother allowed me to see a picture; and placing the book upon her knees she explained the subject to me, as a recompense for my progress. She was most tender and affectionate by nature and the impressiveness and love, which still resounds other vermifuge, as the Lezenge is very pleasant in my heart, after that voice has, alas long

What born wonder is it that the child who er, should have become the great and good the land, has not only caused them to take the er, should have become the great and good man Lamartine? Our own Washington had likewise such a mother. Never can the soft, gentle whisper of a mother's early teachings be forgotten-never can her influence be overrated. Wellanswered Madame Camword-"Morners!"

RICHTER says: , No man can either live piously, or die righteously without a wife." A very wicked old bachelor of our acquaintance says to thit: "Oh, yes! suffering and severe trials purify and chasten the heart."

SIX VEARS AGO

THE children began to cry for Sherman's Lazences. The noise was not no loud at that me, but it has kept increasing ever since, and now has become so great that the mouths of the little ones can scarce be stopped. Dr. Sherman sympathises with the little sufferers, and very much regre s that any of them should be disappointed. Knowing the vast benefit which has been conferred upon the community by the introduction of his infallible

WORM LOZENGES, he has entered into arrangements for enlarging his Manufactory, by means of which be thinks he will be able to supply the demand. And the same paint and care will be taken, that these celebrated Lozenges be made as they have always been, in order that those who depend upon them, may not be disappointed in their hopes. He knew when he commenced the manufacture of the Worm Lozenges, that they would supersede the use of every and the quantity required to effect a perfect cure, is very small. These properties in connexion with the fict that they are sold for 25 cents per box, thus place of every other vermifuge ever offered, but al so rendered them popular to the community.

COUGH LOZENGES continue to cure Coughs, G. bls, Consumption, Asthma, shortness and difficulty of Breathing, and other diseases of the Lungs, with the same facility they did on their first introduction, and the people pan, to the question, "What is needed to educate a nation?" when she replied in one that on the accession of a light cold, they have only to step to either the Dr's, office, or one of the Agents, and obtain a box of his Cough Lozenges, which are very convenient to carry in the pocket, and to take a few through the day. By pursuing this course a cure is often effected in 24 hours, and the patient about his business. So great is the celebrity of the Lozenges, that thousands of persons who have used them, and become acquainted with their effects, will never be without them.

POOR MAN'S PLASTER has cured more cases of Rheumatiam, Pair in the Back, Side and Chest, Lumbago and Weskness, than any application that has ever been made. As the celebrity of the Plaster has increased, hundreds of unprincipled ru-cals have attempted to counterfeit it, and palm it off upon the community as the genuine. Beware of Deception. Remem-ber that the true and genuine Plaster is spread upon reddish paper made expressly for the purpose, and in every case the signature of Dr. Shorman is print d upon the back of the Plaster, and the whole secured by Copy Right. None others are genuine. Therefore when you want a real good Sherman's Poor Man's Plaster, call at the office, 106 Nassau purges purifies and strengthens the system. DR LE ROY'S Pills are a new medicing which has just appeared, and is fast taking the places of all others of the same class. These pills are composed of many ingredients, but the two principal ones are Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry, so united that they act together; the one through its admixture with other sub-tayers, pu rifying and purging, while the other is strengtheo-ing the system. Thus those pills are at the sam-time tonic and opening; a desideratum long and eagerly sought for by medical men, but never before discovered. In other words they do the work of two medicines, and do it much better than any two we know of; for they remove nothing from the system but the impurities; so that while they purge they strengthen; and hence they cause no debilitation, and are followed by no re-action. Le Roy's pills have a wonderful influence on the blood; they not only purify without weakening it. but they remove all to xious particles from the chyle before it is converted into fluid, and thus make impure blood an atter impossibility. As there is no debittation, so there is no nauses or sickness at-tending the operations of this most excellent of me-dicines, which never strains or tortures the digestive functions, but causes them to work in a perfectly natural manner; and hence persons taking them do not become pale and emaciated, but the contrary; for while it is the property of the Sarsa-parilla, united as it is with other ingredients, to move all that is foreign and impure, it is equally the property of the Wild Cherry to retain all the his manufactory at Hollowing Run, Lower Auhealth is the certain result of their united opera-
